Add GAS To Your Golf Game: Fuel Your Game With Your Brain - Golf For Anyone Howard Shaw
AUTHOR'S NOTE For the blind, disabled, "golf widow" and disillusioned golfer the author desires to impart the mental and physical skills required to achieve a good golf game on par with his/her sighted peers. An overall view of the golf game is followed by a very detailed knowledge of the grip, alignment and swing (GAS) and golf shots required to play a successful and enjoyable game of golf. If there is any point of knowledge that is not understood by the learning golfer he/she should consult the professional staff of his/her golf course. Practice of these skills is essential. Only practice will achieve a good repeatable golf swing. Then let the ball get in the way of that swing. Do not hit at the ball. May you have many good days or years of enjoyable golf.
