How to Speak KOREAN? (Spoken Korean Book 86) Steven Sooil Ahn

This Book is the First Book of 10 Language Speaking Series: Korean

Language. This first book is designed for Foreigners, who can learn Korean language with their own tongues. Koreans can learn 9 Foreign languages with Korean tongue, if he can only speak Korean.

Korean language has 14 consonants and 10 vowels. The Korean alphabet was formulated in 1446 during the kingship of King Sejong, who reigned as the Fourth King from 1418 - 1450. Before the alphabet was formulated, the Chinese alphabet was used to write out Korean words.

The shapes of the Korean consonants are based on the shape the mouth makes when the sound is made. The basic form of a sentence is Subject, Object, Verb, the verb being the only required element. In English, One might say "I like candy," but in Korean, one would say the equivalent "I candy like." There are two sets of numbers commonly used, one from Chinese and one native to Korea. Either can be used, though not together.

Most of the vocabulary is made up of native words, but there are many words that have been borrowed from Chinese as well as Japanese. English has also made its way into Korean, and there are many who speak a mixture of both. It is considered to be an easy language to learn, not only to speak, but also to write and read.

777 TongTongTong Korean is an E-Book designed to provide a good online aid for learning Korean language by using the effective language learning tools such as slide and online situational conversation practice using bilingual language, English and Korean, Chinese and Korean, Spanish and Korean, French and Korea, Russian and Korean, Germany and Korean, Indonesian and Korean, Japanese and Korean, and Arabic and Korean. This bilingual on line program has been broadcasting by Radio Korea International of KBS.

The benefit of using this E-Book, 777 TongTongTong Korean will give you complete understanding of basic or intermediate level of Korean Language, and daily usage level with Korean without many difficulties. The First Tong means you can understand what you read with your eye, the Second Tong means you can understand what you hear with your ear, and the Third Tong means you can understand what you feel about Korean Language with your heart. That is TongTongTong, or Tong??.
